'Get Out Vote,' Is Parties' Appeal to Workers in County

Election activities are shifting into high gear as election day approaches and both Republican and Democratic party leaders yesterday exhorted their workers to "get the voters out."

The letter reads: "The results of the 1947 primary election have been written into the record. An analysis of the record shows in many instances the local vote-getting machinery was not geared to its highest point of productivity."

"On Tuesday, Nov. 4, we face another election. As the party's elected representative it is your responsibility to prime the local vote-getting machinery to produce a bumper Republican majority."

"To assist you the Republican organization is mailing to every registered elector a sample ballot with instructions to 'vote the straight Republican ticket,' also a copy of 'On the Beam,' on which appears a portrait of each candidate."

"The stage is set for Tuesday, Nov. 4, 1947. Polls open at 7 a. m. and close 8 p. m. Roll up the count and make it a job well done. Remember—that until we get every Republican into the polling booth, the job isn't done."

Red Probe Finished; Russian's Attempt at Atom Secrets Bared

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The big investigation of Communism in Hollywood wound up today with testimony from former FBI operative Louis Russell that a Russian vice counsel instigated unsuccessful efforts in 1942 to wrangle "highly secret" information from atom bomb expert J. Robert Oppenheimer.

But the House committee on un-American activities produced no evidence at all that movie stars or anyone else in Hollywood had any direct connection with these "espionage activities."

It did, however, turn out more Hollywood figures—writers Ring Lardner Jr., and Lester Cole. They joined eight other persons on the contempt list when they wouldn't say definitely whether they are Communist or not.

From Berthold Biecht German poet and playwright, it got a straight forward statement—in battered English—that he is not Red and never has been in any country.

Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) chopped off the hearing in its ninth day, with a promise that it will be started up again "in the near future" either here or in Los Angeles.

"The (movie) industry," he advised, "should set about immediately to clean its own house and not wait for public opinion to force it to do so."

Paul V. McNutt, special counsel for the Motion Picture association, said in a statement that "the abrupt termination of the Hollywood hearings today is a complete vindication of our position."

"The Un-American activities committee made some serious charges against us. It charged that our films contained subversive propaganda. The committee produced no proof whatsoever."

"The truth is that there are no pictures of ours which carry Communist propaganda and we do not care how many so-called experts the committee employs to try to find it. The search will be fruitless."

For days, the chairman had promised a "surprise" witness would turn up with "sensational" testimony about atom bomb spying.

Russell turned out to be the witness. A member of the committee's investigating staff, he had been on the stand at least 11 times before.

Nobody on the staff could explain what it had to do with the committee's inquiry into Communism in Hollywood, but this is how the spying story was told by Russell:

George Charles Eltenton, who worked for the Shell Development Corporation of Emeryville, Calif., as late as July, 1946, once lived in Russia near Leningrad, learned the language, and translated some Russian books into English. One was by a Russian scientist who was a friend of another scientist who developed Russia's first atom-smashing machine.

In 1942, Peter Ivanov, vice consul and secretary at the Soviet consulate in San Francisco, offered to pay Eltenton to obtain information regarding "highly secret work" at the University of California's radiation laboratory at Berkeley.

Bodies of Oregon Officials Found in Airplane Wreckage

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Oct. 30 (AP)—Oregon's governor, secretary of state, Senate president, and their pilot were found dead today on a crash-scattered butte and were borne out on pine bough litters along a path hacked through the forest.

The wreckage of the most tragic plane crash in Oregon history was reached this morning at the base of a cliff into which the private plane ploughed on a hunting trip Tuesday night.

The dead are Governor Earl Snell, 52; State Senate President Marshall Cornett, 49, next in line on succession for the governorship; Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell, Jr., 41; and Cliff Hogue, 41, a Klamath Falls pilot of many years' experience.

Three bodies lay in the unburned wreckage, below the timbered cliff in Green valley, about 70 miles east of here near the California border. The fourth was thrown clear.

A convoy of State police escorted the stretchers through the pine and cedar stands of the roadless snow-patched wilderness, behind a trail opened for them by axe-bearing rescuers to the main search camp.

There Green forest service trucks carried the bodies through roadless woods to the Dog Lake guard station, and transferred the stretchers to ambulances for the trip here.

A somber crowd, headed by state officials, met the red ambulance as it drove up to the mortuary here behind a convoy of six State police cars. State Police Supt. Claude Mearns, who came here from Salem, led the cortege.

French Leader Gets Majority in Confidence Vote

PARIS, Oct. 30 (AP)—The government of Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier, which he pictured as a middle-of-the-road regime, received a 20-vote majority on a confidence motion in the National assembly tonight in the face of Communist and DeGaullist opposition.

But many parliamentarians and even associates of the premier, conceded that the Ramadier cabinet would have to be reshuffled soon.

The approval of the government's motion by 300 votes to 280 with 18 abstentions, came at the end of two days of near-riotous debate in which booing and name-calling was the order of the day.

During much of the session, however, the deputies seemed more interested in discussions in the corridors concerning the future makeup of the government.

Many deputies, and some members of Ramadier's office, said they believed the cabinet would be shaken up within a month in order to bring in Leon Blum, elder Socialist statesman, and the wartime premier Paul Reynaud, an independent rightist.

The most spectacular part of today's debate in the chamber came when bespectacled Guy Mollet, secretary general of the Socialist party and leader of its leftwing faction, threw his support to Ramadier in opposition to the Communists, with whom his faction has been friendly.

'Mischief Night' Vandal's Romp Through Town, Keep Police Busy

By ED ROSENBERG
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Parties and pranks were in order last night, but Mischief Night brought out the worst in Pottstown's youngsters, as they roamed the streets in search of "fun."

Soaping windows, marking automobile bodies, slashing tires, gangling up on householders and lone pedestrians, they kept the police jumping from early evening until close to midnight, as irate citizens called borough hall for help.

Police reported that no serious damage was done, and they limited their arrests to a 24-year-old man, locked up on a charge of disorderly conduct.

He was Russell S. Meyers, of 10 West Second street, picked up by Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy at Walnut and Charlotte streets.

Three others, several years younger than Meyers, also were brought in, but released at borough hall.

Meyers will have a hearing before Justice of the Peace Charles A. Andre, of the West ward at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Joyce Filby, wife of Earl T. Filby, of Pleasant View road, Sanatoga, was doused by a hose when she attempted to chase away a group of boys who were wearing her down with their commotion.

According to Filby, the uproar started at dusk in Sanatoga and continued until 10:30 p. m., by which time his wife was ill, his two-year-old daughter, Joyce, in a state of near-hysteria, and the entire neighborhood in a state of general debilitation.

Minor cases of property damage resulted from last night's release of juvenile inhibitions.

Motor Patrolman Paul Galloway was summoned to 1428 Sunset drive, where a large floral urn had been broken on the sidewalk, shortly before 7 p. m.

Morris Hoffman, 660 North Franklin street, told police at 6:10 p. m. that a roller from his tennis court had been stolen by a group of fun-makers.

A group of boys enjoyed themselves in a dangerous pastime just before 9 o'clock as they heaved bottles at cars passing Franklin and Walnut streets.

Borowy broke up the disturbance before any passing motorist wound up in a hospital.

Clothes poles were torn down and the lines cut at 1140 Queen street at 9:04 p. m. Galloway, one of the busiest men on the force last night, drove over to investigate.

Borowy, who was kept busy on the radio and in his car most of the evening, stopped a group of boys from tearing up all of the shrubbery (Continued on Page Twenty-three)

MAN, 25, HELD IN NORCO THEFTS

Auto, Groceries Stolen, Police Charge; Jewelry Found in His Possession

Arrested on three charges, Vernon E. McNelly, 25, of Garfield avenue, West Chester RD 2, last night was taken to Chester county prison at West Chester in lieu of $500 bail following a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Ralph W. Ralston, South Pottstown.

McNelly, who is charged with larceny, operating a motor car without the consent of the owner and possessing stolen jewelry, will be given a further hearing Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

Daniel W. Guldin, North Coventry township police officer, arrested McNelly yesterday on the Schuylkill road, South Pottstown.

McNelly is charged with the larceny of groceries, meats and other provisions from a North Coventry township resident. Police withheld the name of the owner of the car and groceries.

Officer Guldin testified he found a watch and some other jewelry on McNelly. This is alleged to be part of loot stolen from five homes in Larchmont, Delaware county, recently.

According to Guldin, McNelly implicated William Albert Heston, of 219 North Adams street, West Chester, in the robberies. Heston is under arrest in Delaware county, Guldin declared.

Price Hike Announced For Gasoline, Fuel Oil

As price boosts were announced in Philadelphia yesterday by two major oil companies, Pottstown dealers said they had not been formally advised of the increase but expected it to go into effect today or tomorrow.

Atlantic Refining company said it will increase gasoline by two-tenths of a cent a gallon; fuel oil by one-half cent; kerosene by six-tenths of a cent, and heavy fuel oil by 35 cents a barrel.

Standard of Pennsylvania boosted gasoline by four-tenths of a cent, fuel oil and kerosene by nine-tenths, and heavy oil by 35 cents a barrel.

The new price of "regular" gasoline in the Philadelphia area, Standard Oil officials said, is 11.7 cents a gallon, to which is added 5 1/2 cents tax and a profit margin generally ranging from 4.5 to 5 cents.

Standard officials added that its boost would bring its price up to those most other companies have had in effect since the past July. Standard had been following a "hold the line" policy.

Pottstown dealers said the rise had been expected since the recent rise of 30 cents a barrel in the cost of crude oil, and added that they expected other major companies to follow suit within a few days.

One dealer expressed the view that this adjustment of prices should last through the winter.

The Sun Oil company announced price boosts of three tenths of a cent a gallon on the price of tank-car gasoline, and eight tenths on distillate fuel oil and kerosene, but these boosts were effective only in New Jersey, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

Pottstown's two hospitals have received an appropriation of $3640, their share of $18,200 granted by the Montgomery county commissioners.

Pottstown hospital received $2575 and Memorial hospital $1065 for their part in furnishing free care to indigent patients from the county.

The money was distributed by County Commissioners Foster C. Hillebrand, Frederick C. Peters and Raymond K. Mensch.

"What was said was that during the past 12 years the borough has paid out of its general funds for expenses in acquiring the water company approximately $20,000."

"It was always the intention of the Republicans that after the borough acquired the water company, this money would be returned to the general fund and used for borough purposes."

"This is the money the Republicans intend to use to repair the streets in the older sections of Pottstown."

"These taxpayers have been paying the bill for years and the Republicans now intend to see that they get something in return for their tax money."

Boden added that, "in announcing their platform Tuesday evening, the Republicans overlooked announcing one of the jobs their candidate for council in the Ninth ward intends to look after. As soon as William Henry Boyer takes office in January from the Ninth ward, he intends to introduce an ordinance in council regulating the smoke from locomotives in the Glowe yard, opposite Penn Village and West King street."

Claims Against Japan By Pacific Allies Soar to 54 Billion

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (P)—Initial reparations claims filed by 11 Pacific Allies against Japan were reported today on the basis of one key estimate, to add up to approximately $54,000,000,000.

An authoritative official source said the claims submitted to the 11-nation Far Eastern commission here, was topped by a demand from China that she be allotted 40 percent of the total indemnities exacted from Japan for war losses.

On the basis of a Philippine official bill against Japan of $4,188,000,000, and the Japanese claim to 15 percent of the entire reparations bill, China's claim would thus amount to about $12,000,000,000.

The claims, disclosed only in percentages came to light following a session today of the Far Eastern commission and publication in Manila of the amount of the Philippine claim, which was contained here.

The commission it was disclosed at the same time, has been striving for the past eight months to scale down the claims out has not reached agreement.

The reparations totals to be sought from both Japan and Germany are awaiting final peace settlements from Germany. Soviet Russia has demanded repeatedly a round total of $10,000,000,000. From Japan, Russia has asked 12 percent of the aggregate to be agreed upon. On the basis of the Philippine estimate, this would add up to some $3,800,000,000.

The size of the Japanese reparations pool on which tentative calculations of the Far Eastern commission were based has not been revealed, but the percentage claims suggested the amount was around $14,000,000,000.

Other initial claims against the ultimate Japanese reparations pool, in percentage of the total, include:

Australia, 28 percent; Canada, 15; France, 12; India, 12.5; the Netherlands, 12; New Zealand, 2; United Kingdom, 25; and United States, 28.

Only the Philippines' estimate has been submitted in terms of dollars as well as percentages of the total. The United States has renounced any claim to industrial plants already marked for distribution but has yet to state officially the disposition to be made of any share of the major reparations pool which may be allotted to this country.

Senate Probers Hear U. S. Oil Company Gave French Cheaper Price Than Navy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (P)—A Senate inquiry developed testimony today that an American-owned petroleum company sold oil to the French for 90 and 95 cents a barrel at the same time it was charging the United States Navy $1.05 a barrel.

James Terry Duce, vice president of the Arabian American Oil company, (ARAMCO) related the story of these transactions to the Senate war investigating committee. Mention of the lower price to the French brought from Chairman Brewster (R-Me) this shouted comment:

"What in the name of heaven were you making commercial sales to the French 10 to 15 cents below what you were selling it (oil) to your own government after we had put in $80,000,000 to save your hides?"

Brewster's reference was to $80,000,000 in lend-lease to Saudi Arabia, for which he has said the United States "got absolutely nothing."

This contention has been denied by W. S. S. Rodgers, board chairman of the Texas company, one of the owners of Aramco, and of vast oil concession rights in Saudi Arabia. The committee is trying to find out whether the Navy was charged excessive prices for oil.

Before Duce took the stand: 1. Brewster announced that the committee will call the Justice department's attention to steps which brought four American oil companies into joint ownership of Aramco. Besides the Texas company and Standard of California the subsidiary is owned by Standard Oil of New Jersey and Socony-Vacuum.

2. Brewster contended that the Texas company realized a profit of $64,000,000 on a $22,000,000 investment in Arabian oil. Rodgers disputed both figures.

Duce said Aramco contracted on Sept. 14, 1945, to sell the French supply mission 11,000 tons of oil at 95 cents a barrel to "see if we could get the French to keep on taking it."

He said that the day before Aramco had signed a contract to sell the Navy oil at $1.05 a barrel. He also disclosed that in November, 1945, Aramco sold a French commercial company 120,000 tons of oil at 90 cents a barrel.

Duce said Aramco prices to the Navy were "equivalent to or lower than minimum prices" generally prevailing at the time the contract was made.

Rodgers said the Texas company invested at least $69,000,000 rather than $22,000,000 in the Arabian project, and was "entitled to a profit" in taking "one of the biggest risks" of the war.

The oil executive also testified that the Middle Eastern oil fields were a "Godsend to the Navy" and that the company had held down its price to the Navy to $1.05 a barrel compared with a "going-price" elsewhere of from $1.68 to $2.95.

Grace Sees High Level of Steel Demand; Bethlehem Asks Split in Common Holdings

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (P) — E. G. Grace, chairman of Bethlehem Steel corporation, reporting he sees "nothing to indicate any let-up in maximum demand for steel products," announced today the corporation's directors propose a three-for-one split of the common stock to be effective at the end of the year.

In connection with the split, stockholders at a meeting Dec. 23 will be asked to authorize an increase in the number of common shares from 5,000,000 to 20,000,000. Since 2,984,984 shares now are outstanding, the split would place nearly 9,000,000 shares in the hands of stockholders and leave some 11,000,000 shares authorized but unissued.

Grace announced the proposal after directors declared the usual $1.50 dividend on common payable Dec. 1 to holders of record Nov. 10.

The corporation reported third quarter consolidated net income of $10,211,336, equal to $2.87 a common share, compared with $12,408,966 or $3.61 in the preceding period and $10,543,000 or $2.99 a share in the similar quarter a year ago.

For the first nine months of 1947 net income reported was $38,710,728 or $11.32 a common share against $29,794,650 or $8.34 a share in the same 1946 period.

The drop in third quarter net was attributed to the effects of a strike in Bethlehem's shipbuilding and repair facilities. Grace pointed out that net billings dropped to $245,553,707 for the period, from $265,894,674 in the preceding quarter. The strike started June 24.

Grace reported two-thirds of the company's workers in the shipyards in the Baltimore area had returned to work and that operations there were approaching normal. At Quincy, Mass., he said, a noticeable back-to-work movement started this week, while in the New York area yards there was no work-return movement of importance.

Bethlehem's dispute with the union remains in the hands of the Federal conciliation service, Grace said, adding "We have tried in every way to negotiate a settlement." The company has granted an increase of 12 cents an hour in those working on that job.

Blessed be mirthfulness: it is God's medicine—one of the renovators of the world. Everybody ought to bathe in it. Grimace, moroseness, anxiety,—all the rust of life, ought to be scoured off by the oil of mirth. It is better than emery. Every man ought to rub himself with it. A man without mirth is like a wagon without springs, in which one is caused disagreeably to jolt by every pebble over which it runs.—H. W. Beecher.

A Public Boon

POTTSTOWN had been so long without a good rain like yesterday's that Pottstonians almost had forgotten how to duck! Some of us couldn't remember where we had put our raincoats, normally standard equipment for a Pottstown Fall.

The rain here was not as important as rain would have been in New England, where it is needed to put out forest fires. Nor would it have been as important as in western Kansas, and other wheat-growing areas of the plains. There much of next year's wheat has not even been planted. If they plant in dust, there is danger that the seed will blow away. If they plant late, and the plants are too small and weak when the ground freezes, they will be killed.

Pennsylvania normally grows about half the wheat that the government expects to save by shutting down the distilleries for 60 days — about 15,000,000 bushels. But $3 prices have induced the planting of a much greater acreage for next year's crop than usual. Even in Montgomery county, where only a half million bushels are grown a year, the increase is noted.

The sowing in these parts was completed the end of September and the fields now are green. Nevertheless, those wheat fields needed the water they got Tuesday and yesterday. It was good for Pottstown and the human race.

Your Brother's Keeper

AM I my brother's keeper?
That's an old question. It was asked several centuries ago when the Master's apostles were exhorting their contemporaries in Palestine.

The answer is the same today as it was then.

YOU ARE YOUR BROTHER'S KEEPER.

It's a responsibility you cannot shirk.

Let's give the question a local application: Suppose you stay away from the polls Tuesday? Suppose because of your failure and the failure of others to vote the officials of borough of Pottstown become corrupted, the school system degenerates into a political sewer.

Do you imagine you can absolve yourself from all culpability?

Your neglect in not voting for intelligent, honest, progressive officeholders may place temptation in the path of your neighbor. You may cause him to stumble.

You are morally responsible, because you are your brother's keeper, just as the Good Book says. You must get out to vote Tuesday!

As Adults We Might Learn

SECRETARY MARSHALL spoke some wise words the other day. He spoke of the importance of a knowledge of history for the solution of our present problems. He deplored our general ignorance and criticized the way in which history is taught in our schools. The present troubles of the United Nations, he said, could be much better understood if we remembered our own history and the bitter struggles that took place before our Constitution was adopted.

While admitting his own inadequate knowledge, he lamented especially the deplorable ignorance of Congressmen. "I have felt," he said, "in our dealing with Congress that one of our great troubles is the limitation of knowledge of what has happened in the past. I believe if there was some way, particularly on the high school level, of bringing the students to a little perception, not through dull recitations, memorized, delivered and forgotten, but through some graphic means, of what has happened in Greece and Rome and the other crucial points in history, about three-fourths of the speeches would be eliminated in Congress. They would know these speeches had already been said and very well said many times in the past."

Teachers, please note—it is up to you to deliver us from the Congressional Record. As for Congressmen, perhaps the motto for you, as for the rest of us, is, "It is never too late to learn." In their system of people's high schools, the Danish people do most of their serious study of history, not as immature and bored juveniles, but as responsible and civic-minded adults. Perhaps we could do better than to take a leaf out of the Danes' book.

Republicans Have Proved Worth in School Board

Letters must not be more than 250 words long, of current topics and must not involve personalities. By MERCURY READERS

Why the Change?

To the Editor: The Democrats say it's time for a change in the school board. A change for what?

I can remember many years when the Democrats controlled the school board. I sat in their old, dirty, smelly, non-sanitary school buildings without electric lights for dark days. Do the Democrats want to change back to these old buildings? Is that the change they want? Maybe they will think that will save money.

Yes, the Democrats say they will build new buildings. Or do they? We know what the Republicans have done. They gave us clean, sanitary school buildings. They gave us good, clean playgrounds. They have co-operated in the Summer playground work. They gave us what they promised. Now that they have kept their promises, we can trust their promises again.

I know that the schools are going to be crowded with "war babies." And I know that the Republican directors know this. Why? Because they have already bought ground to build buildings. When the Republicans build these buildings, we'll have kindergartens for the people of Pottstown say they want them. The Republicans are business men, and they've done a good job of school business. They'll not fool me or you either. They'll do the things they say they'll do. If you don't believe this, just go to a school board meeting and present your problem, as many can testify.

If you're right, you'll get action. Right or wrong, you'll get courteous treatment. Brother, you know where I stand.

Pottstown A CITIZEN

Respect Is Shown

To the Editor: For the information of Seabee of the 119th ("Respect Visibly Lacking," Readers Say, Oct. 28) who says there wasn't a flag in town flown at half-staff when the body of a dead war hero was returned home last week, I'd like to say that the American flag on top of the Eagles and Moose homes were lowered to half staff when the first boatload of dead war heroes docked, were still at half staff when Pottstown's first returned hero came back and still are at half staff as other boatloads return.

Pottstown DANIEL S. DEUMHELLER

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

DORA L., 19, has had one year of college.

"Dr. Crane, I want to get a job and have written a letter which I wish you'd criticize," she began, as she handed me her missive. It ran as follows:

"I was 19 years old in April, and have always wanted to work for your firm. The prestige of your store is so great that I would consider it an honor to have any kind of position which you might offer me.

"Salary is of no consideration. If you'll just give me a chance to prove my ability, I am sure the matter will take care of itself.

"I am attractive looking and a conscientious worker. If you will only let me have a chance to prove myself, I shall be forever grateful.

"I graduated from high school with honors and have had one year of college at Northwestern university.

"Because I need work very badly to help support my widowed mother, I should be most grateful for an appointment. Hopefully yours, Dora L."

Don't begin your letter of application with the statement of your age, for that is usually the least significant thing about you.

Curiously enough, about 90 percent of amateur letter writers will open with this statement about their age. Why? Because age is such a mark of adulthood to the average young person that he or she takes unusual pride in it.

Just as children boast about being 9 or 10, or a year older than some other boy in the neighborhood, so our young adults seem enamored of their ages, and can't get past the first sentence without hurrying to shout their age.

Secondly, don't waste a valuable executive's time "sift-soaping" or flattering him about his great firm and how all your life you've been dying to be employed by such a wonderful institution.

Avoid saying untruths as by stating that salary is of no consequence. Every body knows that is false. Salary is of consequence and Dora wants all she can get.

Furthermore, don't apply for "any job you have to offer." Select a specific clerical or stenographic or sales or advertising job, and then apply for that definite position.

It brands you as an amateur who has probably never had any job. If you really know yourself at the feet of your prospective employer, willing to take the chance he will give you.

Swifter Enactment To Effect Savings

By RAY TUCKER

CHICAGO, Oct. 30 — The Republican leadership on Capitol Hill finally negotiated a novel arrangement with Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder which should speed enactment of appropriation bills and make possible greater savings in government costs. It also may prevent Congress from making blunders which handicapping handling of domestic problems and foreign affairs.

House Speaker Martin hopes that the new system, despite the financial experts' criticism of the Marshall Plan, will enable Congress to pass another tax reduction bill of approximately $4,000,000,000. His canvass leads him to believe that the next session will override a third presidential veto, although he is not entirely sure of the Senate.

Under the new scheme, members of the House Appropriations Committee will sit in with Budget officials when Cabinet officers, departmental heads and finance experts present their original demands for money. It is an innovation in procedure that can have an extremely important effect on the system of appropriation, taxation and legislation.

CONTROL: This arrangement rescinds a Franklin D. Roosevelt ruling under which departmental chiefs or their assistants could not appear before Congressional committees after the Budget Bureau had made its final recommendations and object to that agency's treatment of their original requests.

The Congressmen will henceforth be present to learn downtown's financial needs at first hand. The Budget Bureau, which is responsible to the President alone, can no longer act as a screen between the White House and Congress.

F. D. R. made this ruling because he wanted absolute control of the federal purse, despite the fact that this power is vested in Congress by the Constitution. Under this decree, the Budget Bureau served as the top policy-making body of the government, instead of as a financial agency. It frequently banned requests for funds on the ground that they were "not in accord with Administration policy."

FAVORED: This system also enabled F. D. R. to channel funds into favored activities. Thus, in early New Deal days, he obtained billions for such vote-getting agencies as FWA, WPA, AAA and AAA, while starving the government units which are supposed to serve industry, business and finance—State, Treasury, Commerce etc. Strange as it may seem in retrospect, the Army, Navy and Air Corps suffered from this system of budgetary secrecy and censorship in the very years — 1934-1941—when Hitler, Mussolini and Hirohito were preparing for a war that would engulf the United States.

In those eight years, and ever since World War I, Chiefs of Staff Douglas A. MacArthur, Malin Craig and George C. Marshall constantly deplored the unsatisfactory state of our national defense system in their annual reports to the Secretary of War. In those same eight years, the Budget Bureau reduced the War Department's original requests for funds to modernize the Army by $800,000,000.

DANGER: In 1933 for instance, Chief of Staff MacArthur warned the Secretary of War: "The Army strength in personnel and material and in readiness for war is below the danger line." Six years later, after Hitler's attack on Poland, Chief of Staff Marshall declared in his annual report: "The Army is probably less than 25 percent ready for immediate conflict."

But after the Budget Bureau had made these cuts of $800,000,000, the Roosevelt ruling prevented Generals MacArthur and Marshall from voicing their fears to Congressional committees. The same holds true for Gen. Henry H. Arnold, then head of the Air Force, and for Admiral Ernest J. King, then Chief of Naval Operations. Their lips were sealed, once the almighty Budget Bureau had spoken.

Swell play by North pulled the contract home nevertheless. Winning the spade lead, he used three clubs to discard his own other spade, ruffed a spade and led the heart J. East won and made his only safe return, a heart to the 10. The heart A was scored and the 9 put East in with the K. Having only diamonds, he was end-played. The Q won his return, the diamond A scored next and trumps finished the hand.

North got the message perfectly, being a keen reader of cards in both bidding and play, which South did not realize. If he had, he would have passed the 4-Hearts. When he failed to, North felt that the 4-Spades gently invited slam, which North refused with his 5-Hearts.

There's a doctor's office scene in Clark Gable's new picture that calls for a skeleton as one of its chief decorations. Gable, pointing it out to me, added a reflective postscript. "There have been times in my early acting career," said he, "when I'd have needed to gorge myself for a week to act as understudy for that skeleton's role."

What Have You Told?

DURING the late stages of fairly complex bidding, when you are tempted to make one more call of your own in an apparent misfit situation, it is wise first to take stock and analyze your own previous bids. Have they told your partner all the important facts about your own hand? Or is there something else of importance which he does not yet know? If you decide he already knows all about your own hand and its distribution, depend on him to make the decision for the side.

You will seldom hear a worse bid by a fine player than the 4-Spades by South. He had already told his partner the entire story of his hand in clever fashion. As soon as he heard North's 2-Hearts response to the spade opener, he sensed the danger of a misfit, so he bid his clubs next instead of his diamonds last. That he could bid diamonds last, that he had five spades and four each in the other suits, since with three four-carders and a singleton the natural bidding would have been from the top down — spades, then diamonds, then clubs — or else from the bottom up — clubs, then diamonds, then spades — or else with a start of the suit below the singleton — diamonds, then spades, then clubs.

North got the message perfectly, being a keen reader of cards in both bidding and play, which South did not realize. If he had, he would have passed the 4-Hearts. When he failed to, North felt that the 4-Spades gently invited slam, which North refused with his 5-Hearts.

In Hollywood

By JIDMIE FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30 — Dore Schary, production boss of RKO, outlined an interesting program the other day for Tim Holt, the studio's No. 1 cowboy star. Tim, according to Schary, is going to be given non-formula westerns, henceforth. If the story demands love interest, why, love interest it will have. His pictures will be based on western classics. Held to a reasonable budget, they will, nevertheless, emphasize realism and credulity. They will deal as much with man's effort to win the wilderness as with the blood and thunder ingredients common to western quickies.

If Schary sticks to that program, I'm going to predict right now that Tim Holt, who long will be one of the screen's most popular stars, and that his pictures will be box office goldmines. There is no class of literature better loved by the average American than the western classics — novels such as those written by Clarence Mulford, Stewart Edward White, Will Lillibridge, Alfred Henry Lewis, Zane Grey and Eugene Manlove Rhodes.

In producing westerns, in the past, Hollywood always has made the absurd mistake of dividing them into two sharp classifications. Either the studio bosses have believed, they must be epic, produced at a cost of millions, or horse-operas, produced for small change and almost completely devoid of authenticity, good acting and good writing. Actually, since most of the novels—even the best sellers—have been comparatively simple stories, laid against a simple background, the great majority should have fallen into a classification somewhere between the two extremes. The fundamental mistake has been the absurd conviction that a story laid in the West is necessarily different than a story laid elsewhere.

If you're a fan magazine devotee, you know that Robert Taylor, as a college student, was a performer of no mean ability on the cello. Well, not long ago he and Barbara Stanwyck attended a dinner party given by an interior decorator. The walls of one room in the house were garnished with plants growing in old violin cases. When the Taylors reached home, Bob made a beeline for his cello, which, for the past several years has been gathering dust in a closet. "Going to play something at this hour?" asked Barbara. "No," retorted Bob, "but I detected a certain expression in your eye. I'm going to put my cello in safety before you plant potato vines in it."

Auto Body Works Gets Option on Land

Boyerstown Auto Body Works Inc. has acquired an option to purchase the tract of the Boyertown Ore company located on the south side of Second street at the foot of Warwick street, and final settlement is expected to be made on Thursday.

According to one reliable report, the property already has been surveyed and stakes have been driven on the place for erection of the proposed new plant for the firm.

As a result of the transaction, no parking will be permitted on the property at any time because, it was stated, vehicles entering the tract would cause damage and be trespassing. Buses bringing organizations to the parade on Monday night will have to park on the south side of East Second street, instead of on the property, as Der Gnom Karneval committee had previously announced.

Boyerstown Lions Members Observe Girl Scout Week

Girl Scout week was observed at the regular weekly meeting of Boyertown Lions club last night in Boyer Town inn, when local and county scout workers talked to the civic group.

Mrs. H. G. Burdick chairman of membership for the Berks-Reading Girl Scout council, stressed world friendship as she delivered the main address of the program.

"We do not have peace because we are not ready for it," she pointed out, adding that "we can't talk world peace and have intolerance in little neighborhoods."

The county worker stressed the fact that ideas which adults plant in the minds of children grow rapidly. "We can plant the seed for another war by passing on our bitter, ignorant prejudices," she warned in urging tolerance and understanding, which, she said, are cardinal principles in Girl Scouting.

Mrs. Charles Sell, leader of Troop 11, Boyertown, and Mrs. Donald Caldwell, leader of Troop 10, were introduced. Doris Stahl, of Troop 10, spoke briefly on "What Scouting Means to Me," and Bertha Koons talked about the advantages which girls get from the movement. Betty Baine and Patsy Tabor represented Troop 11.

Deputy Governor Henry A. Hoffman was at the meeting and urged that the fall regional rally, scheduled for the first part of December, be held in Boyertown with the local club as hosts. Action will be taken by the board at a meeting. Region Three consists of 12 Berks county clubs.

Charles G. Trout, a past president of the club, instructed members in the use of the voting machine. He used an instruction model to illustrate its proper use.

Rain Fails to Halt Hallowe'en Festivities

Despite rain which fell intermittently in Boyertown last night, the spirits of local ghosts and spooks who were out celebrating Hallowe'en were not dampened.

A steady procession of costumed figures roamed through streets, armed with noise-makers which ranged in amplitude from tinkling bells to cymbals.

Police reported no disturbances and said that the celebrants were orderly.

TOWN HALL —

St. John declared shortly after his arrival: "I have had experiences these past couple of months that beat any that I had during the war."

St. John brings to his observations the wisdom and understanding born of many years of intimate contact not only with the headline names but also with the little people who made the sacrifices and fought the battles that won the war. In the Winter of 1944-1945 he watched the dying struggles of the Nazi monster from vantage points in England and France, and at the same time produced his first novel written against a background of war, "It's Always Tomorrow."

Never an "armchair commentator," St. John is respected by his colleagues because he has always persisted in digging far below the surface for his news and has welcomed dangers and risks to bring inside information to his listeners.

He knows what it is like to see bombs rain from the sky, what it means to evacuate with troops under heavy fire, to view death and destruction on all sides. He has himself missed death a dozen times and still carries a Nazi bullet in his leg—a memento of the tragic Greco campaign.

He saw the partition of Rumania, the abdication of King Carol, the Rumanian earthquake, the two Iron Guard Revolutions, the entrance of the Nazi troops into Bucharest and then into Bulgaria, the fall of Yugoslavia, the bombing of Belgrade, the fall of Greece and Crete, the new drive into the Middle East and the bombing of Britain.

Escaping from Greece on the last British evacuation ship, St. John arrived in England to become NBC's London commentator. There he followed a schedule that would have exhausted a less determined, a less selfless man. He worked in a munitions factory, helped dig air raid victims from the ruins of Canterbury, went down into the mines and flew with the R.A.F. over the North Atlantic.

Manila Area Alerted For Oncoming Typhoon

MANILA, Friday, Oct. 31 (AP)—Manila was alerted today for a violent island-hopping typhoon which cut a wide swath of destruction, sank one ship, left two more in distress and was less than 150 miles from the city.

Typhoon signal four—which means a big blow threatens but is not imminent—was repeated twice for the Manila area with a warning to "look out for the next signal." Shipping scurried for shelter.

Miles an hour, was blowing across Luzon's Bondoc peninsula southeast of Manila after spreading destruction through six islands in the central Philippines—Samar, Leyte, Masbate, Ticao, Burias and Marinduque.

"Commedia dell'Arte" was the name given to medieval Italian comedy in which the plot was written out but the dialogue improvised by the actors.

Alertness of Allied Forces Paved Way For Normandy Invasion, Briton Declares

LONDON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Two destroyers and a walrus aircraft turned back a large Normandy-bound invasion force when D-Day was postponed for 24 hours in 1944, and prevented a disastrously premature warning of the landing reaching the Germans, a report by the Allied commander-in-chief of the expeditionary naval forces said today.

The report was originally submitted to Gen. Eisenhower on Oct. 16, 1944, by Admiral Sir Bertram H. Ramsay, commanding an Allied invasion naval force, but was released only today as a supplement to the London Gazette.

At a meeting on June 3, 1944, Admiral Ramsay pointed out, Gen. Eisenhower decided to give the go-ahead to the invasion, but early next morning it was decided that conditions the following day (June 5—the original D-Day) would not be acceptable and a 24-hour postponement was ordered.

"By this time, all of Force U from Devonshire and a portion of Force O from Portland (both American) were at sea, and ships and craft had to reverse their course and return to harbor," the report said.

But force U-2A, a slow assault convoy composed of 128 LCT (landing craft, tanks) with their escort, failed to receive the signal ordering the postponement. The force

U. S. Official Pushes Case Of Girl Held in Hungary

BUDAPEST, Oct. 30 (AP)—U. S. Minister Selden Chapin said today the case of Miss Elizabeth Ballos, American citizen who has been detained incommunicado by Hungarian authorities since Monday, was under higher-level investigation.

Chapin conferred on the case with Erik Molnar, Communist foreign minister, but no details of the meeting were disclosed for publication.

A foreign ministry spokesman said Laszlo Rajk, Communist minister of interior, would wait until tomorrow to issue a statement on the arrest of Miss Ballos. He had promised previously to make a statement today. Miss Ballos, a secretary in the Associated Press office here, has not been permitted to speak with representatives of the U. S. government, her employers or the members of her family.

Truman Views Rites For 20 War Dead at Arlington Cemetery

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — Twenty of the nation's soldiers who gave their lives fighting overseas in World War II were given a hero's burial in Arlington National cemetery today.

President Truman, his head bared in the chill October wind, stood silently in the background as the solemn call of a bugle and three sharp-crashing volleys sounded a requiem for the men brought home from foreign graves.

Under leaden skies, the families and loved ones of the dead wept softly around the perimeter of the fresh-dug earth.

It was the first mass burial in this country of American soldiers who died in other lands. Eventually, an estimated 6000 comrades will join them in final rest at Arlington, on the green Virginia slopes overlooking the Potomac and the white dome of the nation's Capitol.

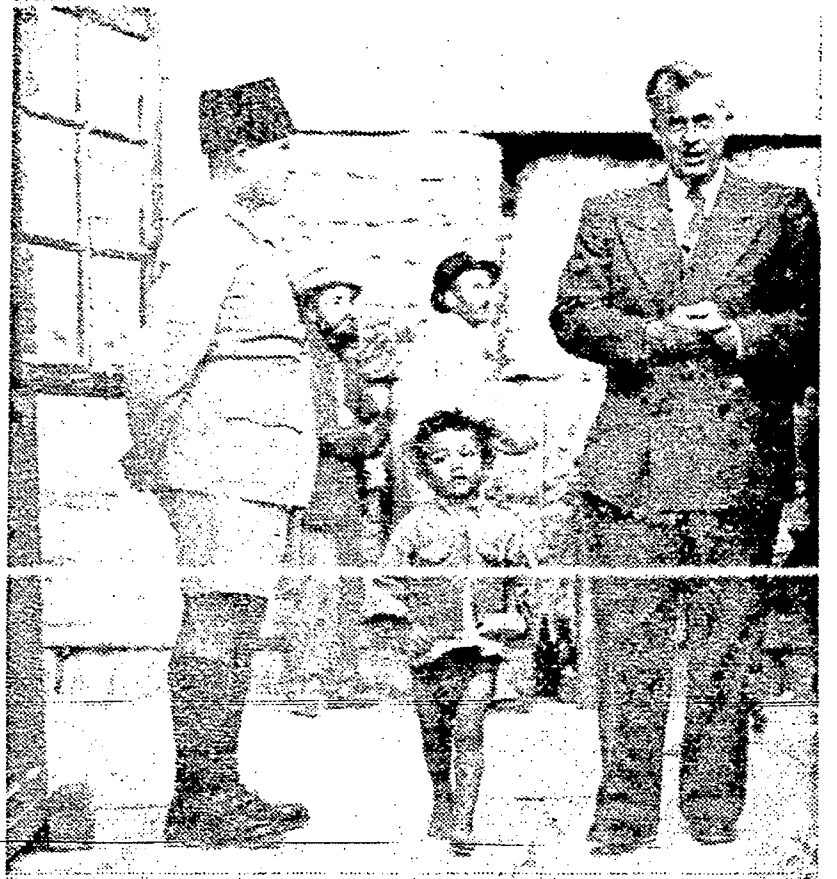

Mr. Truman, somberly dressed in dark coat and dark gray-striped trousers, stood with a small group of cabinet members, top military leaders and government officials. Beside him, erect and grave, was the soldierly figure of Secretary of State Marshall, the tired-eyed man who helped guide American forces to victory as wartime Army chief of staff. There, too, were Secretary of Defense Forrestal and chiefs of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

To the slow march of "The Vanished Army" and the strains of the old hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," played by the 85-piece Army band, the last rites went forward. Chaplains of three faiths — Protestant, Catholic and Jewish — each read their services for the dead as the cold winds of dying Autumn ruffled the 20 flag-draped coffins.

Then three volleys cracked. A bugler sounded taps. Four uniformed men, one from each branch of the armed services, removed the 20 flags from the coffins and gave them to the families of the dead.

Silently, the dead were left to sleep.

Archbishop Cantwell Dies on West Coast

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30 (AP) — Archbishop John J. Cantwell, 72, first archbishop of the Los Angeles Catholic diocese and a long-time advocate of clean movies and literature, died today shortly after his removal to a hospital.

At his bedside were his brother, Bishop William Cantwell, and his secretary and long-time friend, Bishop Timothy Manning.

Ill for several days, he had been reported in a critical condition the past Friday night, when he was administered the church's last rites. But he had rallied and this morning his condition was reported considerably improved.

He succumbed to a throat infection complicated by what a friend said apparently was a stroke.

Czechs Surprised As Slovak Leader Quits State Office

PRAGUE, Oct. 30 (P)—The sudden resignation of Deputy Premier Jan Ursiny, veteran Agrarian leader and also vice-chairman of the rightwing Slovak Democratic party, thrust a big new question mark tonight into Czechoslovakia's Communist-inspired politics.

Ursiny's party, one of the most conservative groups in the country, and Slovakia's dominant party, has been the constant target of attacks by Slovak and Czech Communists. Two of Ursiny's secretaries were arrested recently, after security police had searched his office in Prague while looking for evidence of an anti-government plot.

Ursiny said at the time that he had no knowledge of his secretaries' activities.

Shortly afterwards, two Slovak Democratic deputies who were also party secretaries, were divested of parliamentary immunity—partly at their own request to meet allegations against them—and were immediately placed under arrest.

Dr. Fedor Hodja, son of a former Slovak premier and also secretary of the party, has been publicly assailed by the Communists, and a Bratislava court has asked the state prosecutor to demand that Hodja's parliamentary immunity be lifted.

Another attack on the Slovak Democratic party came tonight in Bratislava, when nearly 2000 delegates of the Communist-dominated labor federations, representing 100,000 workers, adopted resolutions demanding that the present state government be swept out of office.

The resolutions called for greater representation of labor groups among the state ministers—which was tantamount to a demand for more Communists in government posts in Slovakia.

100,000 Chinese Reds Fight for Changchun

PEIPING, Oct. 30 (P)—Chinese Communists, said by government dispatches to total 100,000 men, pressed fierce new assaults today on the outskirts of Changchun, Manchurian capital 60 miles to the west.

The government accounts said the defenders, aided by strafing planes, were holding firm and had inflicted heavy casualties on the attackers.

Communist infiltration into villages north and west of Changchun was reported ripped before the capital's two airfields could be threatened.

Man Held for Assault Jailed for Lack of Bail

LAKE GEORGE, N. Y., Oct. 30 (P)—John G. Finn, accused of assaulting Reva Reznick shortly before she died of drowning in Lake George, was held in jail here tonight for lack of $5000 bail.

The 22-year-old Summer hotel bellhop, whose home is in Stamford, Conn., will be arraigned Nov. 10 on a second degree assault charge. Warren County Judge Howard A. Glassbrook, fixing bail today, said he made it high because Finn was not a resident of New York.

Berks Countian Cited By Belgian Consul

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (P)—Nine Coast Guardsmen who participated in the rescue of 28 survivors of a crashed Belgian airliner near Ganader, Nfld., the past year, received awards today from Belgian Consul Charles Hallaert.

Thirty-nine persons were killed in the crash Sept. 19, 1946.

Recipients of the awards included Rudolph Schoning, aviation radio man first class, Temple, Pa.

Schoning received the silver medal of the order of Leopold II.

Fernand J. Martens, representative for North America, represented Sabena airline, owners of the plane at the ceremony at Ford Benner field. Award recipients also received letters of commendation from the Coast Guard.

VAGRANT ARRESTED

Charged with vagrancy, Joseph Peck, 64, no address, was arrested last night at 9 o'clock by Patrolman Stanley Borowy. Peck was sleeping in a car on the Krause and Ludwick garage property on East Third street.

Rome's Telephones Set New Standard

ROME, Oct. 30 (P)—Rome's war-shattered international telephone lines are carrying more calls now than they did before Italy got into the war.

An official report has disclosed that the 56 circuits thus far put back into operation handled 1,726,800 calls from July 1, 1946, to June 30, 1947, compared with 1,500,642 over 122 circuits operating during the corresponding period of 1939-1940.

This was exclusive of conversations over radio-telephone circuits such as those linking Italy with the United States, Argentina, Brazil and other transoceanic countries.

Italy now has telephonic communication with 26 countries—among them Egypt, the Lebanon, Republic, Palestine with Yugoslavia, as well as for additional circuits with France, England, Switzerland, the Netherlands and Russia.

Indoor Meetings Started By Model Plane Club

Members of the Pottstown Model Airplane club, meeting last night at the Pratt Bicycle shop, 425 High street, started their indoor season meetings with flights of lightweight models.

Paul Jones, of Sanatoga, described methods of designing and building the model, and demonstrated the carving of a balsa wood propeller until it was paper-thin.

Edward W. Jameson, president, said that the group is seeking a larger building for its Fall and Winter monthly meets.

A professional artist will be obtained soon, he declared, to construct a club emblem.

Court Stenographer Doubles as Witness

MAUCH CHUNG, Oct. 30 (P)—Court stenographer Roy Mohrback was taking notes in a will contest today when he was called suddenly as a witness.

He took along pad and pencil and played a dual role, making a complete record of his own testimony by jotting down questions and answers.

Presiding Judge James C. McCready also had to get a substitute so he could testify in the case involving the will of Thomas McCullen who left $50,000 to a nephew.

Music Teacher Wins In Row With Pupil

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30 (AP)—Peace returned to Etna High school today after a controversy over reinstatement of a young drum major, brought on a student strike and a heated school board meeting to which police were called to restore order.

Samuel Yahres, the music teacher who refused to reinstate Olivia Gniuer as drum major, was said by Superintendent R. E. McKee to be "the boss of the situation."

McKee, who withdrew a charge of insubordination lodged against the teacher when Yahres refused an order to reinstate Olivia, said in a statement:

"I have to support my faculty.

As musical director, it is Mr. Yahres' right to pick his own drum major. From now on he is boss of the situation.

After students left classrooms for a day in support of demands for Olivia's reinstatement, the school board held a special meeting to consider action. Police were summoned to quiet excited speakers.

Author-Composer to Talk At Linfield Church

In Linfield Reformed church Sunday night at 7:15 o'clock Prof. J. W. Yoder, author and composer, will make an address.

He is best known for his book, "Rosanna of the Amish." Some years ago he directed a number of singing schools in this area. At the present time he is publishing music at Huntington.

Motorist Disregarded Barriers, Police Charge

A motorist who, police said, disregarded two detour signs, four barriers, three men at work on a compressor in action at High and Adam streets, yesterday morning will receive a traffic summons from Justice of Peace Charles A. Andre, of the West ward.

Motor Patrolman Earl J. Rhoads reported that at 9:20 o'clock Anthony Agnew, of Wynwood, who was driving west on High street, swung his car into the first lane of eastbound traffic. This was the only lane open for eastbound traffic at the time.

Borough workmen are installing new equipment for a traffic signal at the intersection.

All lanes again were open to traffic yesterday afternoon after Contractor John W. Snyder completed laying a conduit under the pavement.

Five different versions of the Gettysburg address were written or spoken by Lincoln.

Arab Monarch Blames U. S. Groups for Backing Jewish Entry into Palestine

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (P)—King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan declared today that American groups supporting admission of 100,000 Jews into Palestine were advocating a program that "will have the most frightful consequences in bloody chaos."

The Arab ruler, whose country adjoins Palestine on the east, said in an article in the November American magazine that the United States was almost solely responsible for the present turmoil in the Holy Land.

The Zionist settlements established in Palestine since the first world war would have been impossible without American funds, Abdullah said, continuing:

"This was contributed by American Jewry in an idealistic effort to help their fellows. The motive was worthy; the results were disastrous. The contributions were by private individuals, but they were almost entirely Americans, and, as a nation, only America can answer for it."

"The present catastrophe may be laid almost entirely at your door. Your Government, almost

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 16 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matters stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Reveal Development of Painless 'Needle'

Holding the arm of his secretary, Donna Graff, Dr. Edward B. Tuohy uses the "hypspray" in inject medication into her system. The new device, which was demonstrated at the District Medical Society's annual scientific assembly in Washington, is expected to replace the hypodermic needle used at present for injection of drugs. At right, the "hypspray" is compared to a hypodermic syringe. It shoots medication through a sterile "metapule," pierced by an invisible hole whose diameter is no larger than that of a human hair. Air pressure behind the metapule is built up to any degree by twisting the top.

A cordial invitation is extended to sign our SIZE REGISTER. We are compiling a permanent record for the convenience of all your friends and admirers. The register will be a complete record of your apparel and accessory sizes.

Here's how the new idea works! We think you're going to love it! Just drop in one day soon and fill out the Register which is ready and waiting at the Lingerie Section with pen attached for your convenience!

Then . . . and here's the neatest trick of all . . . the next time someone who loves to make you happy with a gift from KESSLER'S comes in to select one for you, they will have the added joy of making it a real surprise because they won't have to hint and inquire about sizes, which spoils all the fun of gift giving . . . for here at Kessler's, we'll know! Just think what a boon this is going to be for Secret Pal and Silent Sister shoppers, or for surprise showers and special occasion gifts.

AND WON'T THE MEN LOVE IT! They won't bring home a lovely something you've always wanted — in a size you'll never be able to get into with a shoe horn! Or one so big you'll wonder if the dear fellow wants you to wrap yourself in layers of it!

And won't he feel clever! Never again lost in a fog of embarrassment, when shopping for the especially intimate and feminine "Doo-Dads" they just adore buying for you.

He will only have to say, it's for then a flip of a page! We'll know and he'll know just what's right! Such secret keepers we are, too!

So hurry and come in — sign the Size Register. Then a casual little hint to family and friends that you've done so. Just wait and see what thrills and joy the next great day in your life will bring.

Slain in 1928 Robbery
Sorry Collins Caught

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 30 (P)—Relatives of the bank president who was slain in a bloody 1928 robbery attempt expressed sympathy today for James Robert Collins, 38, who drew a life sentence for his part in the crime and then escaped prison to find a new and respected place in society.

But at the same time Alabama was prepared to demand the return of Collins from Doylestown, Pa., where he was apprehended after 11 years of freedom, to pay out his debt to the state of Alabama.

Collins was one of three men who took part in the attempted robbery of the Citronelle, Ala., bank in which Claude D. Hurt, the bank president, was killed.

Captured and sentenced to life imprisonment at a trial in Mobile County Circuit court, Collins escaped in 1936 and fled to Pennsylvania. There he married and established a successful business as a well-driller. He and his wife have two children.

At Salisbury, Mo., a sister of the slain banker, Mrs. Will Johnson, said today, "I feel that it would be better for the sake of the wife, his children and his mother that they would not force him to go back and finish his sentence."

"I feel that maybe he was trying hard to lead a better life."

Mrs. Johnson added that another sister in Salisbury, Mrs. D. L. Hearn, had told her she was "sorry they found him for his wife's sake."

At Mobile a member of the jury which found Collins guilty of murder declared he was interested in helping Collins.

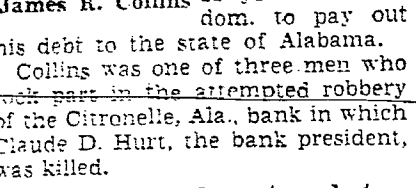

The former juror, C. W. Matzenberger, said, "I would like to help Collins if it is possible. But first I want to find out if there is anything that can be done by members of the 1928 jury."

Four other members of the jury said they were considering the Collins case, but had reached no decision on intervening.

Mobile county sheriff W. H. Holcombe said he thought Governor James E. Folsom should make a careful investigation of the Collins case, and if he finds he has lived the life with which he is credited since his escape, "grant him executive clemency."

But at Montgomery, State Prison Director Frank Boswell told reporters, "Collins has committed a serious crime and he should be brought back here to pay for it."

Boswell said extradition papers for the return of Collins would be executed and forwarded to Pennsylvania "immediately." He said he had been notified that the fugitive will fight extradition.

"Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back"

LONDON Oct. 30 (P)—Garry Allighan, labor member of the house of commons and a London newspaperman, was expelled from parliament tonight for "dishonorable" conduct in writing an article for a newspaper trade journal alleging that members of the house accepted bribes to tell what went on in secret party caucuses.

Arthur Heighway, editor of World's Press News, which published the article the past April, was called to the bar of the house where he admitted a "serious error of judgment" and expressed his "sincere and humble apology." He was found guilty of "gross contempt of the house" and was reprimanded by the speaker.

Allighan's expulsion was the first since 1922 when a member was voted out after he was convicted of a criminal offense for which he was sentenced to prison.

Allighan was convicted also of "grave contempt" on a charge that he made "persistently misleading" replies to questions by a house committee investigating his article.

17 Banking Firms Are Charged With Monopoly by Government

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (P)—The government laid monopoly charges today against 17 of Wall Street's leading banking firms in a civil suit described by Attorney General Tom Clark as "one of the largest and most important in the history of the anti-trust laws."

Optimistic

Wife of the famed anti-Communist leader of the Polish Peasant party, Mrs. Stanislaw Mikolajczyk is shown in London awaiting news of her husband who recently disappeared. She says she is confident he escaped from Poland and is on his way to England. In Stockholm, Sweden, Tadeusz Norwid, noted Polish author, yesterday advanced a theory that Mikolajczyk "has been abducted by the Russian political police."

The financial district, veteran of many battles with regulatory and investigative groups, countered with a series of denials and dug in for a show-down fight.

"We think we're a fight," said John M. Hancock, partner of Lehman Bros., a firm named in the suit. "We'll give it to them."

"My guess," he added, "is that it will be a dirty fight."

The suit, filed by the Department of Justice in Federal District court for Southern New York, specifically accused the 17 internationally known investment banking firms with conspiring to monopolize the handling of new issues of securities.

The Department of Justice in addition asked for the dissolution of the Investment Bankers Association of America, members of which include virtually every security-selling organization in the nation.

The complaint cites 131 individuals and asserts that the alleged conspiracy dates back to 1915.

Some of the alleged practices in which the bankers are accused of conspiring include:

Elimination of competition among themselves and among other investment bankers in the purchase and distribution of new securities.

Influence and control over the management and financial activities of companies raising money by issuing securities.

Concentration of the new securities business in a single market (New York) in which sales are made to large purchasers of securities on terms favorable to such buyers and with a minimum of risk to the investment bankers.

Acheson Steered Maniu, Court Told

BUCHAREST, Romania, Oct. 30 (P)—Ion Mihalache, vice-president of Dr. Iuliu Maniu's National Peasant party, testified before a military tribunal tonight that Maniu was advised the past April by U. S. Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson that it was not an opportune time for the party to take direct action against the Romanian government.

Mihalache said Acheson's advice was contained in a reply which he added, must have been made to a specific question put to Burton Y. Berry, then the U. S. political representative in Bucharest, by Maniu.

Earlier, Nicolai Benescu, secretary general of the National Peasant party, told the tribunal he was present at an interview between Maniu and Berry and that Maniu asked the American whether he should begin violent action.

Expensive Fun At 76c a Dozen

A lot of good eggs went to waste last night and a lot of young folks had a good time the night before Hallowe'en in Spring City and Royersford.

The throwing of eggs, good ones at that, was one of several Hallowe'en pranks committed in Spring City, coupled with innumerable other forms of mischief which kept the police of both towns busy responding to complaints in scattered parts of the two towns.

Spring City police received reports of the egg nuisance and breaking of bottles on the streets and a crowd of mischief-makers in different sections. One officer was stationed at the high school when it became apparent something was happening whatever it was. Chief of Police John Hanbury and Officer Arthur Setzler were both on duty in the Chester county borough.

In Royersford, police too were kept on the alert responding to complaints. One group of youths, who police apprehended after having dumped ash cans and garbage cans on several streets and having placed a pole across another street, were made to pay for their fun by removing all the trash under police surveillance. Police Chief Bryson Turner and Officer Nicola Seiscio were both at their posts in Royersford last night.

Royersford Worker To Be Man's Alibi On Robbery Charge

"Lee," a man with a small black mustache, will go to the aid of a friend in establishing an alibi to free the latter from a five to ten year jail sentence today, in Philadelphia.

"Lee," it was learned recently, is the name of 227 Main street, Royersford, who claims to have spent a night in a Philadelphia hotel with John Ferguson, 36-year old Navy veteran, accused of a taxi-cab holdup. The night the two men were in the hotel was the same night Ferguson was accused of holding up a taxi in Philadelphia.

It was the past Feb. 13 when Ferguson was sentenced to serve five to ten years in the Eastern penitentiary, Graterford, by Judge Carroll.

The judge recently decided to grant a new trial, after reading a petition presented by Joseph Allessandroni Jr., counsel for the defendant.

Ferguson had claimed he spent the night in question with a man known only as "Lee."

Edward G. Pollard, clerk of the Federal district court in Delaware, who believed Ferguson's story, started a search for "Lee," knowing him only to be a steelworker and having a small black mustache. He inquired of many personnel offices and talked to thousands of steelworkers before he eventually learned "Lee" is the Royersford man. He is employed at the Keystone Drawn Steel company, Spring City.

Coupe assertedly recalls Ferguson and also recalls the night they both remained in a hotel on Arch street, Philadelphia, staying there from 10 p. m. to 10 a. m. the next day. The robbery in Philadelphia had occurred at 2:30 a. m.

Coupe will appear in Philadelphia today in behalf of his friend.

McNelly gave detailed report of the successful program of recreation conducted during the Summer and outlined the plans for the coming months, which will be similar to that of the past Winter.

He claimed the Grand jury did not find a true bill in the case.

Vagrant Is Jailed; Held for Rail Police

A man giving the name of Lloyd Crank, no home, was locked up in Royersford police station by Officer Nicola Seiscio last night and was held for Reading railroad police, after having been ejected from a train at the Royersford station, for failing to pay his fare and causing a disturbance. He was put off the southbound express due at Royersford at 6:54 p. m. Police were called to the local station after Crank got cranky in the station.

Rancher Confesses Killing Wife in '44; Exposed by Son

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Oct. 30 (P)—Junia Wesley Vandervoort, 61-year-old rancher, confessed today to killing his wife in 1941, Sheriff Ray Socum said.

Police said Vandervoort was arrested Tuesday after his 21-year-old son, Wesley, reported to them he had seen his father kill his wife the mother of five sons, and had helped dispose of the body under threats from the older man.

Acting on Wesley's information, officers dug up human bones on the Vandervoort ranch but up until today Vandervoort had steadfastly denied killing his wife, claiming she disappeared in 1941 and he had heard nothing of her since.

The admission came, Sheriff Socum said, while the officers still were searching for the skull, hands and feet to go with other bones found in the ranch barnyard.

Officers said Wesley told them his father shot his mother with a 22 rifle after a bitter argument, pumping the finishing bullets into her as she lay pleading for mercy. He said that he and his father first hid the body in a wash boiler and buried it in a dry area three miles from the house. It later was dug up, left in a pig pen for a while and then reburied, police said the youth related.

The modern watch contains approximately 200 tiny parts compressed into its extremely small space.

Kauler's Grid Team Seeks 5th Straight Win of Year

The Golden Cubs of Pottstown Junior High, who have rolled over every opponent that has faced them this year, will go after their fifth consecutive victory this afternoon when they battle Bridgeport Junior High. The kickoff for today's game, which will be played at Bridgeport, is scheduled for 3:15 o'clock.

Coach Gene Kauler's charges have beaten all opponents by at least two touchdowns, and with Earl Decker back on the active list, the Cubs stand a good chance of doing it again today.

The Golden Cubs will be playing without the services of their regular center, Johnny Yanusko.

Yanusko celebrated his 17th birthday yesterday and is now ineligible to participate in junior high school sports. Kauler announced yesterday that Dick Weiser would fill the vacancy left by Yanusko. Weiser has seen some action this year and Kauler feels that he is capable of handling the center's duties.

Earl Decker, little halfback, has recovered from a sprained ankle and is ready for action. Kauler said, however, that Decker will not start but will play a lot during the game. Stan Chaplin filled in for Decker against Rittenhouse the past week and will start today.

The Cubs don't know too much about the Bridgeport team this year, but the locals are hoping to repeat the 15-0 win scored over Bridgeport a year ago.

Kauler revealed last night that the remainder of the starting lineup would be the same. The Golden Cub mentor said he doesn't believe in breaking up a winning combination.

Andy Kniezy will be stationed at his regular left end position and Harry Huseman will be at left tackle. Kauler's choice for the left guard slot is Nick Shanta and teaming with him at the other guard position will be Willie Walton. Dave Morris will hold down right tackle and Pete Steppe is slated to be at right end when the game starts.

In the backfield Paul Duttenhofer will start at quarterback while running back will be Al Walton, speedy little Negro, and Chaplin Big Sam Green will be at fullback.

Out for Season

Triple-Threat Star of the Michigan State Spartans, George Guerre, is out for the season as a result of an injury received in the game with Kentucky. Guerre suffered a fractured leg as he was making the Spartans' only touchdown of the game.

PIAA EXPECTS TO WIDEN FIELD FOR GIRL SPORTS

Officials to Be Asked To Approve 14 Types of Sports for School Fems

HARRISBURG, Oct. 30 (AP)—Girls will have a greater opportunity of participating in interscholastic athletics under a suggested revision of rules that comes up for approval at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association board of control on Sunday.

Edmund Wicht, executive secretary of the PIAA, said the new rules were drawn up at a three-day meeting last month at State College and now come before the association's board of control for final action.

The women's committee, headed by Miss Anna Kerestes of John Harris High, Harrisburg, covered all phases of girls' athletics, both from an interscholastic and intramural standpoint. Eligibility rules were also set up to cover participation in sports.

When the committee report is presented at the board of control meeting the PIAA officials will be asked to approve 14 different types of sports for female athletes. They are: Archery, badminton, basketball, bowling, golf, hockey, lacrosse, riflery, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, volleyball, and track and field.

"We are not looking forward to the day when girls will meet for State championships in basketball," said Wicht in discussing the rule changes, "but we do feel that if we should have proper regulations for the safeguarding of the participants."

Highlighting the new rules that were approved by the women's committee are the following provisions: 1. The total number of games played in interscholastic competition shall be limited to one per week. An exception to the rule provides that in cases of postponements it might be possible to play two games the same week, but never more than two.

2. Schools shall be limited to eight-game schedules in basketball, soccer, and field hockey during one school year. 3. No game shall be scheduled which would necessitate the team being away over night.

4. All interscholastic games must be played in the afternoon. There were also provisions made for control of all coaches and officials by the PIAA, with only women coaches permitted to direct the activities of the girls and only women officials approved by the PIAA permitted to officiate at interscholastic games involving girls' teams.

Under the heading of recommendations the committee ruled that girls' athletic teams shall not compete for State championships except in riflery and golf.

TROJANS LEAD GOLDEN BEARS IN 13 GAME SERIES

Locals Have Lost Only Twice to Conshy; Rain Hampers Practices

Rain forced the Pottstown High Trojans indoors again yesterday and Coach Heeb Meyers put his charges through a light workout in the Junior high school gymnasium. Meyers is hoping for clear weather today so he could take the Trojans outdoors for their final practice before meeting Conshohocken High tomorrow afternoon on Franklin Field.

Yesterday's practice session was light in every respect with Meyers putting the Trojans through a signal drill and exercises. If the weather is clear today, Meyers expects to get a lot of hard work done. Two rainy days this week have hampered Trojan practices and Meyers revealed that the griddees need a lot more practice in order to stop Conshy tomorrow.

Tomorrow's contest will be the 14th meeting between the two schools. Of those 13 games, Pottstown has won 10 and Conshohocken has taken but two. One game ended in a 0-0 tie back in 1938.

The series started in the Fall of 1934 when Conshohocken took a 25-0 decision from the Trojans. After losing that opening game, Pottstown fought back to win three games in a row before the tie came along. The Trojans won again in 1939 before Conshohocken turned the trick of trimming the locals, 26-6, in 1940. That was the last time Pottstown has lost to the Golden Bears.

The Trojans scored easy victories in '41, '42, '43 and '44 but in 1945 the locals had to go all out to win by 13-7. The past year the Trojans held a 7-0 lead for three periods before breaking loose for 20 points in the final stanza to win by 27-0.

This year Conshy will be trying to end the Pottstown jinx. The Golden Bears, coached by Harry Fox, think it is about time the Trojans lost a game to Conshohocken and they intend to do something about it.

The Trojans have won only one game this year — a 40-0 decision over Bristol — and Meyers' charges want to win this contest. Should the Trojans win, they still stand a good chance of finishing the season with a .500 mark.

THOMPSON TRIUMPHS PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30 (AP)—Bill (Chicken) Thompson, 176, of Philadelphia, gave Billy Grant, 179½, of Orange, N. J., a terrific thumping in eight rounds tonight to win a unanimous decision in the windup at the Met before 3208 fans who paid a net of $4145.

GOVERNOR KEEPS BAN ON HUNTING; MORE RAIN NEEDED

HARRISBURG, Oct. 30 (AP)—Continued cloudy weather and forecasts of more rain raised hopes of hunters again today as the Department of Forests and Waters kept a close watch on conditions in what had been the state's drought-parched woodlands.

Gov. James H. Duff proclaimed a ban on all hunting until further notice starting early Monday.

The small game season normally would open at 9 a. m. on Saturday, Nov. 1, if the ban were not in effect. However the 1925 law under which it was issued also authorizes the executive to lift it on 24-hour notice.

The Department of Forests and Waters said there has been a sharp drop in the number of small forest fires reported by district men since rain began this week. On Sunday, Oct. 26, 61 fires were reported burning, 41 on the following day and only 11 on Tuesday. No reports were available for yesterday.

Rain has fallen in most sections of the state on two different days but the U. S. Weather bureau said that so far the accumulated precipitation has failed to make up deficiencies that piled up since the dry period began late in September.

American League Meeting Called Concerning White Sox Suspension

CHICAGO, Oct. 30 (AP)—President Will Harridge of the American league today projected his organization into the controversy raging between A. B. Chandler, commissioner of baseball, the Chicago White Sox and Leslie O'Connor, suspended general manager of the Sox.

Harridge called a special meeting of league club owners, or their representatives, to be held in the Hotel Cleveland at Cleveland tomorrow to "consider" the action taken against the White Sox and O'Connor.

Harridge revealed that Chandler had requested the removal of O'Connor from baseball's executive council presumably because Chandler was of the opinion that since O'Connor remains under suspension and could not serve.

The council is composed of Chandler, O'Connor, Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati club, and the presidents of the American and National leagues, Harridge and Ford Frick.

"The commissioner's request for O'Connor's removal will be taken up at our Cleveland meeting tomorrow," President Harridge said. "Every American league club will be represented to consider the suspension of the White Sox organization and its general manager."

O'Connor will attend to explain his side of the controversy and to exhibit correspondence that passed between himself and Chandler over the signing of an obscure 17-year-old Chicago high school boy pitcher.

The signing resulted in a $500 fine and later suspension of O'Connor and the White Sox because of O'Connor's refusal to remit on the plea that he had not violated any rule.

The school boy athlete involved is George Zoeterman, promising left handed pitcher, signed to a 1948 contract after he had served as a batting practice pitcher with the White Sox on their last Eastern trip. Zoeterman, who pitched four no-hit games in the past two years, is a student at the Chicago Christian High school, a private school.

Baseball rules specially provide that students in high schools belonging to the National Federation of High School Athletic associations may not be signed until after graduation, or until after their class has graduated. Zoeterman will not be graduated until next January.

Chandler declared Zoeterman's contract void and fined O'Connor $500.

In declining to pay the fine, O'Connor pointed out that Chicago Christian, a private school, does not belong to the national federation.

When O'Connor noted that Chandler had broadened the rule to cover all high school students in the United States and Canada, he insisted the rule must be applied as written and that Chandler had exceeded his rights in expanding the interpretation.

The 59-year-old O'Connor, a lawyer and for 24 years executive to the late Kenesaw Mountain Landis, whose Chandler succeeded, has indicated that he might seek action in the courts in his intentions to "resist the coercion (of Chandler) to the fullest extent."

Said O'Connor: "There is no place in baseball to seek redress. We'll have to fight our case elsewhere."

In the deadlock that developed between Chandler and O'Connor, the latter notified Chandler by wire the past Friday:

"Your directive (ordering payment of the $500 fine) is in all respects illegal and we have no intention of paying the fine or recognizing your right to void this entirely legal contract."

Chandler's reply, on the same date, was:

"You are hereby notified that the Chicago American league club is denied representation until my directive is complied with."

The ban prohibits the White Sox and O'Connor from taking any part in the major league draft to be held in Cincinnati Nov. 10 or from having any representatives at the executive council sessions and joint meetings of the major leagues.

However, O'Connor today announced the signing of his star shortstop Luke Appling. Appling, 1943 American league batting champion, will be starting his eighteenth season with the White Sox. He had an unofficial average of .306 the past season.

President Harridge approved the signing of Zoeterman to a White Sox contract for the 1948 season on Sept. 9 and also approved the batting practice contract of Sept. 15. Zoeterman was given a $2000 bonus on recommendation of Emmett "Red" Ormsby, Sox scout.

Asked if he proposed to ask the American league to present a "solid front" in his showdown with Chandler, O'Connor said: "I don't care what stand they take. I'm willing to fight the case alone. There isn't a court in the land which wouldn't permit the accused to air his side of a case before sentence is passed. That is what happened in this case."

Boyertown High's Harriers Take Berks County Cross Country Title

Coach Francis Sell's cross country team copped the Berks County championships for Boyertown High yesterday afternoon by defeating Birdsboro High, 21-34, for the Bears' sixth consecutive victory.

Sell's sensational runner, Jimmy Houpp set a fast pace over the Birdsboro course and was leading all the way until he had out 60 yards to reach the finish line. At this point, Houpp turned his ankle and limped the rest of the way to finish third.

Boyertown's captain, Henry

Zajac, took first place and Howard Murray of Birdsboro was second. Zajac's time for the mile and one half course was eight minutes, three seconds and Murray's time was eight minutes, seven seconds. Houpp limped across the finish line in eight minutes, 11 seconds.

Boyertown's Jack Frain finished behind Houpp in fourth place and John Wean finished fifth for Birdsboro. In sixth place was Jack Schouler of Boyertown and Ronald Gabel finished seventh behind his teammate, Bill Seasholtz finished eighth for Boyertown and the Bears' Foster DelGrosso came home ninth. Birdsboro's Harry Grant was 10th and Earl Day of Boyertown was 11th. After Boyertown's Phillip West, who finished 12th came Frank Denson and Jim Scheetz of Birdsboro. Richard Landis of Boyertown was 15th.

The champions will now start preparations for the conference meet and the district meet which are scheduled for the near future. Sell names the Bears have a good chance to take the district title this Fall.

51 Nations Are Entered In '48 Olympic Games

LONDON, Oct. 30 (AP)—At least 51 nations will compete in the Olympics next Summer — the largest number of countries in the modern history of the games, the British organizing committee reported today.

Burma and Jamaica were the last two acceptances, bringing the total to 51. More than 200 nations were invited to the Berlin Olympics in 1936. Nine more nations have yet to answer the invitations.

Yugoslavia amplified its formal acceptance by reporting that it would send teams in track and field, basketball, football, boxing, cycling, gymnastics, rowing, swimming, shooting and yachting.

Trinidad notified it would send teams only in cycling, weight lifting and track and field.

'MISCHIEF NIGHT' —

at Wilson and Diamond streets, at 9:12 o'clock last night.

A Mrs. Kalamon, of 612 Chestnut street, informed Sgt. Anthony H. Herman at 10:22 p. m. that "considerable damage" had been done to her property.

Patrolman Robert Houser hurried over to find a wire wash line cut in three places a children's swing taken into an alley and broken, and boards in a fence broken.

Mrs. Kalamon declared that John Bryan, 19, of 616 Chestnut street, did the foul deed. Sgt. Herman told the complainant to come into borough hall at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and tell her story to Burgess William A. Griffith.

The desk sergeant then called Charles Bryan, the youth's father, and told him to bring his son to the hearing for a general airing of the squabble.

A more innocent form of sport last night was provided by tossing garbage cans, tin cans, and anything else lying loose, around the streets.

Calls of this nature were received at 7:31 p. m. from 304 North York street; 7:45 p. m. Fourth and York streets; 8:10 p. m. Maple and Rohland streets; this time corn cobs were tossed; and at 9:45 p. m. May and Washington streets, when glass was thrown around the street.

"Just plain nuisance" was the charge of several summons received by police last night. They came from widely scattered neighborhoods.

A false street barricade was set up three-quarters of the way across Charlotte street at Mineral street late last night with three red lanterns detouring motorists.

C. B. Wells, of 107 North Franklin, told police about it at 11:30 p. m. and Patrolman Robert Houser and Harold E. Hahn investigated.

Over in North Coventry, township Officer Daniel W. Guldin was kept hopping.

He surprised a boy carrying a life-like dummy, which he apparently intended to plant along South Hanover street, as he lugged it through the township.

Motor Patrolman Earl Rhoads found a sign reading "14 miles to Reading" at Beech and Hanover streets yesterday morning, carried there from Douglassville by a prankster who believed in starting Mischief Night a day early.

One of the many motorists who are going to find their tires punctured when they drive off today, called police yesterday.

He was Jonathan Nye, of Coventryville, who reported that three new tires were punctured after he had parked behind the Sears-Roebuck store on High street Wednesday night. Patrolman Houser investigated.

Chief of Police James A. Laughhead said yesterday that, far from being a prank, the tire puncturing is a criminal action and those persons caught will be prosecuted and made to pay for the damage.

Parties made up of the less harmful variety of Halloween fun last night.

One hundred fifty persons attended a party of the Pottstown Rotary club, held at the Elks home, with a quiz program. Mrs. Melvin Feroe in charge, living the procedures.

Adelle Neff, an impersonator from New York city, put on an act for the guests.

Many of the guests were in costume, striking the proper note among the decorations in the room.

Sponsored by the Lunfield school Parents-Teachers association, 165 children, teachers, and even a few parents, went round and round at a roller skating party in the pavilion at Ringing Rocks park last night.

The best-costumed youngster was Mary Ann Albitz; funniest, Rita Penta; most original, Nancy McMann; ugliest, Sandra Bauers, and the youngest in costume, Annette Kulp.

Mrs. Florence Horner Mrs. John Bauers, and Ralph Biever were the judges.

The Lady Reindeer lodge, meeting at Walnut and York streets, had 50 persons, including several men and children at a Halloween party.

Among the prize winners were Peggy McElroy and Joyce Yeager, who impersonated a bride and groom; David and Harold Williams, and Mrs. Harold Williams, who carried off the second prize for acting out the roles of a cow and milkmaid; and Russell Favinger, who strolled around among the pumpkins and cider dressed as Aunt Jemima.

In the recreation room of the Emmanuel Lutheran church, more than 100 members of Cub Scout Pack 53, with their parents, held a colorful Halloween party.

Decked with colored crepe paper cut into the shapes of goblins and owls, and with corn shocks and pumpkins lining the rooms, the youngsters and their elders, almost all in costume, staged a grand march and settled down to the more serious business of the evening—eating cakes and cookies and guzzling cider.

LeRoy R. Moyer, cubmaster, was in charge of the business meeting.

doubted that his party will have agreed on any plans to match those being formulated by President Truman and his advisers. He said the Republican policy committee would meet Nov. 14 to draft its recommendations.

2. Secretary of State Marshall and Undersecretary Lovett met with President Truman today, presumably about the final draft of the European aid program.

3. Marshall assumed direct charge of the job of rounding up the far-flung details of the European aid program. Economic and diplomatic experts have been itemizing the needs of the 16 western European nations asking for U. S. assistance and commingling them with lists of available U. S. resources.

4. The Internal revenue bureau joined in the search for means to obtain stored grain supplies off the farms to increase shipments abroad. Commissioner George J. Schoene-man revealed that his bureau has "under study" a plan to let grain producers apply part of their 1947 cash receipts on 1948 income returns.

5. Canadian officials conferred with U. S. Treasury representatives on their country's dollar problem in paying for U. S. goods. Canada is the United States' No. 1 foreign customer and curtailment of her purchases would affect not only the U. S. domestic economy but also its over-all foreign trade program.

the university, and asked him to find out what was being done at the radiation laboratory, particularly with "the highly destructive weapon" that was under development. Eltenton told Chevalier Russia was entitled to such information as a war-time ally.

Chevalier approached Oppenheimer and told him Eltenton had a "source" through which he (Eltenton) could relay information to the Soviet government.

Oppenheimer told Chevalier this was a "reasonable act and he wouldn't have anything to do with it."

Oppenheimer later was in charge of development of the Atom bomb at Los Alamos, N. M. He now is director of the institute for advanced study at Princeton, N. J., where he said today he had no comment on Russell's testimony.

OREGON CRASH —

Mrs. Cornett said her husband would be buried in his native town, Burnsville, Ky. A hearse sent from a Portland mortuary was to take the governor's and the secretary of state's bodies on to Portland.

A joint State funeral for Snell and Farrell in the House of Representatives at Salem Monday was tentatively considered, but definite plans awaited the arrival of Snell's son, Dr. William Snell, tomorrow morning.

Searchers came across the wreckage this morning after a night-long hunt in the rain-drenched, rugged country about three miles west of Dog Lake.

The grim confirmation, expected since the wreckage was glimpsed from the air late yesterday afternoon, cut a deep gap in Oregon's political life.

John H. Hall, 48-year-old Portland attorney, rose from a sick bed to hurry to the State capitol in Salem to take the oath of office as governor. Hall, as speaker of the House of Representatives, automatically succeeds to the governorship now that both Snell and Cornett are dead.

Paper Firm Building Destroyed in Fire

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30 (AP) — The five-story Sobel Paper and Wire company building was quickly destroyed tonight in a fire raging in the Orianna and Third streets sector of central Philadelphia.

One other building, in addition to a number of freight cars on the Pennsylvania railroad's Willow street siding, was threatened.

Fifteen engine and truck companies and other organizations battled the spectacular flames in an effort to check them. An hour after the first alarm was turned in at 6:40 p. m., the blaze still had not been brought under control.

Firemen said the Sobel building was filled with a stock of waste paper and office furniture and went up in a sudden and spectacular burst of flame. In a few minutes, flames had burst through the roof and were fanning out toward a building on the opposite side of the street.

65 Million Ceiling Placed on U. S. Loan For U. N. Quarters

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 30 (AP) — The dollar shortage plaguing most members of the United Nations prompted the United States today to offer to seek congressional approval of a $65,000,000 U. S. Treasury loan for construction of U. N. headquarters in New York city.

At the same time, France and Sweden proposed that the next meeting of the U. N. assembly be held in Europe. Its sponsors did not say so, but some delegates indicated this move was inspired by the world-wide dollar shortage and the desire of U. N. members to conserve the U. S. cash which their delegates must spend while attending New York meetings.

Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate, notified Secretary-General Trygve Lie that President Truman was prepared to ask Congress for approval of an interest-free loan of not more than $65,000,000 and suggested that negotiation of such a loan between Lie and U. S. Government representatives be started.

Terms of the loan must be agreed upon before the President can ask Congress to approve it.

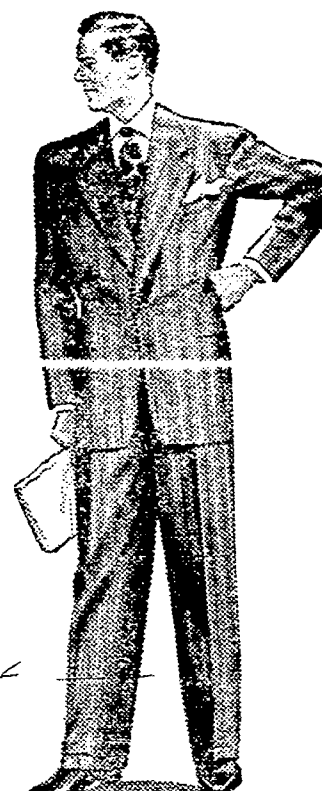

U. S. delegation spokesmen said it was apparent, in the face of the current dollar shortage in most countries, that the U. S. would have to help financially if the headquarters on Manhattan's East Side were to be built with American materials and labor and that the U. S. government considered the Treasury loan the best means of assisting.
